THE IRISH NEGOTIATIONS.

De Valera's Departure for Dublin.

(Reuter's Service.)

London, July 22.

Mr. De Valera, departing for Dublin, was given a farewell by a small, but enthusiastic crowd of partisans whom he addressed in Irish and English. He said that the immediate future was uncertain, but he was most confident of the ultimate success of the cause.

Irish Chief's Declaration.

Later.

Mr. De Valera, who was in good spirits, was given a huge reception at Dublin. In response to appeals from the crowd for a speech, he declared, "By acts, not talking, will the nation achieve freedom. If we act in the future as in the past two years, we shall not have to talk about peace; we shall have it."

THE PACIFIC CONFERENCE.

Japanese Attitude to the Discussions.

London, July 22.

Reuter learns from a Japanese source that the United States has not yet replied to the latest Japanese note. Negotiations are continuing at Washington, but Japan is not proposing any programme, regarding that as not her business.

Concerning the return of Shantung to China, which seems to have been one of the most discussed questions, the informant declared that Japan on one or two occasions had expressed readiness immediately to return the territory to China, with necessary security for Japanese capital and nationals, but that China insisted that the territory should be returned direct by Germany.

Japan Expected to Acquiesce.

Washington, July 22.

The officials are awaiting the result of the discussions of the Japanese Privy Council. It is understood that there is reason to believe that an agreement may be reached by which Japan will join in a full discussion both of limitation of armaments and of the Pacific problems, possibly with reservations.

AGRICULTURAL WAGES BOARD DECISION.

Pay to be Reduced by 6s. a Week.

London, July 22.

The Agricultural Wages Board, at which the farmers and workers were represented, decided to issue forthwith a statutory notice of a proposal to reduce the minimum rate of wages in the case of adult male workers six shillings weekly, others proportionately, provided that the minimum for adult males is nowhere under 42s. weekly. A month is allowed in which objections may be lodged. Six hundred thousand workers are affected.

AUSTRALIANS WIN EXCITING GAME WITH YORKS.

Force a Victory on Stroke of Time.

London, July 22.

Before five thousand people in sunny weather, on a good wicket, the Australians made 163. Rhodes took three wickets for 12 runs and Wilson three for 35. Yorkshire were dismissed for 113 (Holmes 43). Gregory took four wickets for 10 runs and Mailey four for 34. The Australians won by 175 runs ten minutes from time.

County Cricket.

Sussex won by seven wickets. Middlesex won by 65 runs. Surrey won on the first innings. Nottingham won by 48 runs. Leicester won by 68 runs.

UNEMPLOYED IN THE U.K.

Some Reduction.

London, July 22.

There were 2,010,000 registered as unemployed in the United Kingdom on the 15th inst., a decrease of a hundred thousand compared with the previous week.

THE PROBLEM OF UPPER SILEZIA.

Italy Supports France Respecting German Troops.

Paris, July 20 (delayed).

Adopting the French Government's viewpoint, Italy has instructed her Ambassador at Berlin to call the German Government's attention to the danger to peace of German troops concentrating on the Upper Silesian border.

While quite eager for the solution of the Silesian problem as soon as possible, French opinion still believes from past experience that any solution will be futile if means to enforce it are not first provided by the Allies.—Havas.

ANOTHER RUSSIAN MOBILISATION REPORT.

Against the F.E.R.

Helsingfors, July 22.

It is semi-officially declared that partial mobilisation is proceeding in Soviet Russia principally against the Far Eastern Republic.

GRAIN SHIPMENTS TO GERMANY.

U.S. Banker's Finance Shipments.

New York, July 22.

A bankers' syndicate has arranged to extend a credit of $9,000,000 to finance grain shipments to Germany.

GERMAN EXPORTS IN 1920.

Nearly M.70,000,000.

Berlin, July 22.

It is semi-officially stated that German exports for 1920, excluding gold and silver, amounted to 69,300,000 marks.

EARLIER TELEGRAMS.

NEW RUBBER INVENTION.

EARLIER SPECIAL TELEGRAMS.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

STRAITS SHIPPING CASE.

Singapore, July 22.

Judgment has been reserved in the case arising out of the requisitioning of ships by the Government during the war.

Plaintiff's counsel further strongly commented on the official coercion in connection with the requisitioning of the steamers, which he described as a course of deliberate oppression of Oriental subjects of His Majesty. The Colonial Secretary, Mr. James, had not attempted to explain the action or controvert the evidence, no law officer had come to the court to tell the truth and the Executive had retained a private advocate to argue technicalities. The Government's action was unique in the annals of the Colony and the Empire. Plaintiff came to his Lordship (the Judge) as the keeper of the King's conscience asking for justice.

DEFENCE FORCE SCHEME.

Singapore, July 22.

The Defence Force scheme has been published. The disbandment of the present corps will be partial only and is obviously designed for the removal of non-exercise officers. It is recommended that all original officers and N.C.O.s be exercise men. Eight members of the Committee state it is a rider that if the voluntary system does not provide an adequate force, compulsion must be applied. Four members declare their conviction that compulsion would provide the requisite numbers necessary for a high standard of efficiency.

HONGKONG THEATRE.

An Educational Picture.

Through the efforts of Edward Laemmle, nephew of Carl Laemmle of Universal and William F. Alder, a member of the Southern California Academy of Science, one of the most interesting, amusing and educational pictures seen, has been presented to the screen and comes to the Hongkong Theatre to-day.

The feature is concerned principally with the life and habits of one of the wildest tribes in existence to-day. Head hunters, every one of them—and they certainly look it.

These tribes dwell on the island of New Guinea, and it is said that it took much persuasion and many presents to get them to pose before the camera.

A thrill is also injected into the picture in the form of a tiger hunt in Java. The natives are seen beating the bush with long knives until the beast is driven up to the camera where he is killed before any damage is done.

THE TYPHOON.

Nearing the Colony.

The red typhoon signal hoisted yesterday was this morning replaced by the black signal, denoting that the typhoon is now nearer the Colony. A warning issued at 9.15 this morning states that a typhoon of unknown intensity is within 200 miles of Latitude 20 North, Longitude 118 East, moving West.

Another warning, received by the American Consul General, Hongkong, from the Manila Observatory at 9.45 a.m., states that the typhoon is in about Latitude 20 North, Longitude 119 East, moving West.

Yet a further message was received at 10.30 a.m. to-day, reading: "Typhoon in about 117 deg. Long. E. 20 deg. Lat. N. moving West."

HONGKONG TRADE.

Chamber of Commerce Report.

The fortnightly price current and market report published by the Hongkong General Chamber of Commerce states:—

Cotton piece goods and fancy cotton goods.—Prices on this side have weakened. Some sales of White and Gray Shirtings are reported at lower rates than those prevailing recently. Daily clearances have improved. An early cessation of hostilities between the two Kwongs is hoped for.

Cotton yarn.—Values appreciated about $5 to $10 per bale all round as a result of shortage of stocks and firmness of producing centres. A moderate volume of business was transacted.

Quotations are:—No. 10s. $142/183. No. 12s. $160/190. No. 16s. $195/215. No. 20s. $205/235. Arrivals 3,000 bales. Sales 5,000 bales. Shipments 500 bales. Un-sold Stock 2,000 bales. Bargains 10,000 bales.

Raw Cottons.—Values are quoted as follows:—Indian descriptions $21½/25½ per picul. Chinese descriptions $26/35 per picul.

Metals.—Business during the last fortnight has been lifeless. No enquiries and no sales reported.

Flour market report.—Stock: About 85,000 sacks. Quotations: American Patent $4.75 per sack. American Cut off $3.25 per sack. American Straight $3.30 per sack. Shanghai Flour $3.30.

Window Glass.—Market quiet. Sales of 14-20 in. to 20-30 in. assortment have been reported at $9.30 per case.

THE "NUI TSAI" QUESTION.

The Proposed "Mass Meeting."

A Chinese notice to the following effect has appeared in the vernacular papers convening a mass meeting of the Chinese to discuss the pro and cons of the Nui Tsai question:—

Whereas some people have asked questions in the House of Commons in London and incited all classes to influence the Secretary of State for the Colonies to instruct the Hongkong Government to take steps concerning our old practice of keeping servant-girls, we, therefore, invite our fellow-Chinese residents in Hongkong to attend a meeting to be held on Saturday, the 30th instant at 2.30 p.m., at the Tai Ping Theatre, to discuss the following matters and pass such resolutions as the majority of those present may decide, so that the Hongkong Government will be fully acquainted with our views. As the question affects seriously our Chinese custom, we shall be glad if interest be taken extensively at the meeting at the appointed time.

Matters for discussion:—
1. Is it a fact that servant girls are brought up for prostitution?
2. Are servant-girls slaves?
3. Are servant-girls kept for the sexual purposes of their masters who, when tired of them, sell them?
4. Has the Chinese Government passed any law to abolish the practice of keeping servant-girls?
5. Can the owners of servant-girls ill-treat them as they please?
6. Any other matters relating to the question of servant-girls.

In the event of the above-mentioned matters being found to be facts, we should request the Hongkong Government to pass a law to abolish the system altogether. If found groundless, we should also take steps among ourselves to prevent possible abuses, so as not to give others excuse for making such accusations.

CHINESE LABOUR.

Further Local Demands.

After protracted negotiations with their employers, local Chinese tobacco dealers have granted a 30 per cent increase to those workers who draw less than $15 a month and a 25 per cent increase to those who receive $15 upwards. Another demand of the tobacco cutters was that employers should provide tiffin and this was conceded.

Proprietors of Chinese shoe-making shops have been occupied for the past ten days with a petition from their employees, soliciting an all round 50 per cent increase of wages. Since the receipt of the petition a meeting has been held between the parties but a settlement is still lacking. So far there has been no objectionable outburst of feeling on the part of shoemakers.

Despite the repeated persuasion of Chinese dairy keepers their employees still refuse to accept their offer of a thirty per cent increase. The employees, include grass cutters, domestic, etc. Originally they asked for a forty per cent increase, but subsequently reduced it to thirty-five, which figure they have fixed as the limit of reduction. A strike was arranged to take place a fortnight ago, but the arrest of two of the officials of the guild apparently "cowed" them.

THE TIBETAN QUESTION.

It is reported that Mr. Alfred Sze, the Chinese Minister to America, wired to the Chinese Government, expressing a desire that it open negotiations with the British Government for a solution of the Tibetan question. He also hopes that the issue will be laid before the Assembly of the League of Nations.

MIRACULOUS RECOVERY.

Boy's Escape From Death.

Before Mr. Dyer Ball at the Magistracy this morning, a Chinese boy was charged with assault.

Inspector Charles Aris, prosecuting, said that at 1 p.m. on the 23rd June defendant and complainant were working in a boat shed under different employers. There was a dispute as to the use of a shovel and the defendant struck the complainant, a small boy, across the stomach with a carrying pole and ruptured his spleen. On that same evening, the condition of the boy being considered, he was taken to the Kwong Wah Hospital for the purpose of taking his dying deposition. Owing to his unconscious condition this matter had to be held over until the following morning. An operation was performed by Dr. Smalley, but the spleen was so severely ruptured that no hopes were entertained of the boy's life being saved. Much to the surprise of the Hospital authorities, and particularly to Dr. Smalley, who termed the cure as miraculous, the condition of the boy improved, and he was enabled to appear to give evidence at the Police Court this morning. The case was being dealt with as we left the Court.

CORRESPONDENCE.

(To the Editor of the "Hongkong Telegraph.")

The Coronet's Operators.

Sir,—With reference to the statement inserted in the Telegraph last evening, touching our operators, this is purely a part and correspondingly inaccurate.

The "notice to resign" sent by a solicitor, purporting to be on behalf of the operators, is not conditional in any sense and the men have not either directly or through the "legal intermediary," asked for a "clear definition" of anything. The public need not fear that the Company's theatres will cease to entertain them as they have a right to expect.

Yours faithfully,

H. W. RAY,

Manager, Hongkong Amusements, Limited.

THE WORLD THEATRE.

Following the recent victory of Jack Dempsey over Georges Carpentier there is an especial interest attaching to the film being shown at the World Theatre this week taken of the Dempsey-Willard fight about 15 months ago when Dempsey wrestled the title of the world's heavyweight champion from the man who had to beat Jack Johnson to get it. The film is an extremely good one and shows how Dempsey out Willard groggy in the first round and knocked him about for two further rounds until Willard's seconds threw in the sponge. The programme contains other good attractions.

It is announced that the Hongkong Government is entertaining 300 American blue jackets for three evenings (to-day, Sunday and Monday) by booking seats at the World Theatre for them to witness the Dempsey-Willard picture.

The theatre is one of the coolest in the Colony.

CHANG TSO-LIN AND THE EXPEDITION FUND.

The Sinwanpao says:—A Tientsin telegram reports that Chang Tso-lin has sent his representative to Peking to receive funds for the coming Mongolian Expedition, and said representative had received from the Peking Government $2,400,000, in cash, and passed through Tientsin on his return to Mukden.

KWANGSI ARMS.

A Seizure in Hongkong.

A large consignment of arms and uniforms, intended for the Kwangsi Army was brought to light in a raid which Police Officers and the Revenue Department made last evening on a Chinese boarding house on the Praya. Information received led to a visit of the officers to the Kwong Tai Loy boarding house, and in a room taken up by the smugglers, who turned out to be Kwangsi soldiers, a number of cases were opened, these being found to contain as many as 24 revolvers, from 7,000 to 8,000 rounds of ammunition and 109 suits of uniform of the Kwangsi Army.

Two Kwangsi girls and a Kwangsi man who engaged the room where the arms were found, were arrested by the Police.

STRANGE STORY OF FORCED MARRIAGE.

Nullity Petition Refused.

In the Divorce Court, London, the Lord Chancellor heard an extraordinary story of a South African marriage, when Mrs. Huse Korel, otherwise Cohen, petitioned for a nullity of her marriage with her husband, Henry Korel.

The petitioner said she was born in 1899, and until 13 she was in a convent at Windhoek, German South West Africa. Whilst waiting with her mother at Cape Town for a boat to England, she went for walks and was introduced to Korel. Before the boat sailed on July 2 last, Korel pressed her to sign to be engaged to him, and said that if she refused he would throw himself under the train. Having lost her brother in the war, she did not want this on her conscience.

He assured her the signing was not legally binding to her, and if when he came to London, she found she did not love him she could tear it up. They went to a small office with a friend of Korel, and she signed the paper. She did not understand she was going through a ceremony of marriage. Korel at the office took a three-stone ring off his finger and put it on her engagement finger. She had no thorough knowledge of English. She had lived all her life among the blacks.

Before she went through the ceremony Korel gave her some chocolates, and after eating them she was very dazed and light-headed, and she slept a lot on the boat.

PETITIONER'S PROPER REMEDY. His Lordship said he would not listen to such a story in the case of a person who was normally-minded. The petitioner's remedy was to allow such a proposed husband to do away with himself. (Laughter.) In dismissing the petition he said he could not accept the evidence that a person of normal mental capacity had been so threatened to surrender her freedom and judgment to such a threat as the man was alleged to have made.

BRITON MURDERED AT YOKOHAMA.

Tragic Struggle with an Armed Burglar.

Details of the murder of Mr. F. Ronald Hill, by a burglar at Yokohama on July 8, are given in the Japan Gazette of that date:—

Early this morning the foreign residents of Yokohama were shocked by the news that a very popular member of the community, Mr. Frederick Ronald Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Hill, had been murdered by a Japanese burglar, and on every hand were heard sincere expressions of regret at the tragic ending of such a promising life, of deepest sympathy with the parents and sisters of the victim, and of disgust with the lack of police protection from which the community suffers.

The tragedy occurred at about four o'clock this morning at the home of the family at No. 233 Bluff.

Mrs. Hill, the mother, who has been an invalid for some years, was disturbed, and after returning to her room on the second storey heard a sound in the hallway. She stepped out into the hall-way, and saw a Japanese standing by a door of one of the rooms. The man was of short stature, full-faced, and was wearing a white kimono with a black obi, and had a tenugui around his head. In his hand was a short knife, the blade being little more than an inch long. Seeing that his presence in the house was known, the villain brandished the knife at Mrs. Hill, and shouted "Aburahi!" ("Dangerous!"). Mrs. Hill grabbed the man by the arm, but he immediately released her grasp, at the same time slashing her across the hand with the knife. Mrs. Hill shouted for help, and her husband, who occupied an upstairs room, and the son, Mr. Ronald, who occupied a room downstairs, were both aroused from their slumbers.

A TRAGIC STRUGGLE.

Before Mr. Hill, senior, came to the landing the thief dashed down the stairs, with Mr. Hill in pursuit, followed by Mrs. Hill. When the thief reached the lower landing he was confronted by Mr. Ronald Hill, who, startled from his sleep, came out in his night attire. He at once tackled the villain and pinned him against the wall behind a sofa. Mr. Hill, sent, picked up the nearest thing at hand—a chair—with the intention of giving the villain a knockout blow, when Ronald remarked, "Don't do that! Get his hands. He has a knife!" Mr. Hill at once tried to get hold of the burglar's hands, but the hall being in darkness, he found it impossible, in the scramble, to grip the hands of the intruder.

While Ronald was grappling with him, the villain raised his hand and with the knife struck him on the left collar-bone. Another blow was inflicted, but this like the first grazed the bone. He then made a third effort, and this time the knife penetrated just above the collar-bone, severing an artery. The young man staggered, bleeding profusely, and Mr. Hill at once turned his attention to his son, the murderer meanwhile making his escape through the window of Mr. Ronald's bedroom.

The servants had by this time been aroused, and a messenger was at once sent for medical and police assistance. A foreign neighbour summoned Dr. Spear, of the U.S. Naval Hospital, and the young man was removed to the General Hospital, where he received every attention, but expired a few moments after arrival.

No policeman was at hand, and a messenger had to go half-way down Yatozaka before one could be found.

RAILWAY RIGHTS IN SHANGHUNG.

American Enterprise Seeking Open Door.

According to the Asahi an American company, the Washington Trading Co., has gone a long way with the preliminary arrangements for constructing a railway between Yentai and Weibsen, on which Japan is said to have a right of pre-emption inherited from Germany, by virtue of the Treaty of Peace with Germany. The provisional contract is said to provide for the construction of 180 miles of railway at a total cost of $18,000,000, a formal application being now before the Chinese Department of Communications for official sanction. The Asahi denounces this as "a glaring infringement of Japan's treaty rights," and thinks it unlikely that the Chinese Department of Communications will give the sanction asked for. But the conclusion of the provisional contract is a reality, it says, and it is suspected that the American company's real object is to dispose of its rights, thus acquired, to the Japanese Government on favourable terms. The Japanese Foreign Office is, the paper says, investigating the matter, with a view to taking whatever measures are necessary to protect Japanese interests.

SHANGHAI SHIPPING IN 1920.

Record Figures.

The Annual Trade Report and Returns of the port of Shanghai for the year 1920, just issued by the Statistical Department of the Chinese Maritime Customs, bears striking testimony to the growing importance of Shanghai. The value of trade, the Customs Revenue and the tonnage of shipping using the port have all established new figures.

The tonnage of vessels entered and cleared during the year amounted to 22,500,000, a considerable advance on the figures for any previous year and four millions in excess of those for 1919. The share taken by each flag is as follows:

American	11 1/2 percent
British	37
Chinese	18 1/2
French	2 1/2
Japanese	27 1/2
Other flags	3

The activity in the local ship-building industry has been greater than at any time in the past, and the size and number of vessels launched bears witness to Shanghai's growing importance in this respect. Two large standard steamers were launched and completed for the British Government by the Shanghai Dock and Engineering Company, and the same firm also launched a large steamer for the China Merchants' Yangtze trade, as well as six steel cargo vessels of 300 tons deadweight and a twin-screw river gun-boat for the Italian Government. The New Engineering and Shipbuilding Works put four ships of 1,350 tons each into the water for Norwegian owners. The Kiangnan Dock and Engineering Works launched two large standard steamers for the American Government. The amount of smaller shipping launched during the year swells the total output to a record for Shanghai, and the volume work in hand augurs well for the future. The local yards were also kept fully employed on repairs and had a very satisfactory year.

The trend of the freight market was downwards throughout the year. In the coasting and river trade business was fair and rates remunerative during the early months, but towards the end of the year serious reductions had to be made. In the southern trade, especially the slump was very heavy, the rates at the end of the year having fallen below the pre-war figure. For ocean-going shipping the year opened auspiciously, with a very fair demand for space for Chinese produce to European and American ports, and the regular lines had little difficulty in filling their vessels at the very high conference rates then prevailing. Subsequently the demand fell off, and, in addition, a large number of United States Shipping Board steamers came on the market, with the result that offers of tonnage greatly exceeded the demand. The Homeward Freight Conference accordingly adjusted their rates in September and again towards the end of the year. But in spite of this encouragement to shipping, the outward freight market remained stagnant, and at the close of the year shipments abroad had virtually ceased.

The following table shows the number and tonnage of ocean and river vessels entered and cleared at the Maritime Customs under General Regulations during the year:

	No.	Tons.
American	1,241	2,587,506
British	4,884	8,326,254
Danish	64	120,24

Included in these figures, under the heading of "River Steamers," we find that there were 147 U.S. vessels of 59,619 tons; 1,169 British of 1,823,539 tons; 575 Japanese of 1,051,511 tons; and 695 Chinese of 1,036,231 tons, giving a total of river steamers of 2,586 vessels of an aggregate tonnage of 3,970,950.

The dues and duties collected by the Maritime Customs during the year amounted to Hk. $18,833,046, an increase of four and a half million taels over 1919. The following table shows particulars under each flag:

WHAT RELATIVITY MEANS.

Lord Haldane on Life and the Ideal.

"Relativity" is a hard word. Professor Einstein's recent doctrine of Relativity in Physics brought it into prominence. Yet the principle of it is not new, for it was embodied in Greek philosophy; and Viscount Haldane, in his book, "The Reign of Relativity" just published, mentions that the subject (not limited to physics, but extended in its relation to all knowledge) has occupied his mind for over 40 years past.

Relativity, Lord Haldane explains, only means that our view of things varies with our personal circumstances. There is another sense, quite different from this, in which relativity imports that our direct knowledge is not of things as they appear in relation to our minds.

LADY AND HER PARASOL.

He offers a homely illustration:—
"If a lady drops her parasol, it seems to her to be attracted by gravitation to the muddy pavement."

For an observer with a powerful telescope and himself at such a distance as to know nothing of any gravitational attraction, it might appear that the earth and the lady were moving upward with an accelerating or increasing velocity; and that when the lady's parasol slipped out of her hand, it at that moment lost its accelerating push and relapsed into a rate of motion upwards that was without acceleration.

In consequence it would be obvious to the distant observer that the accelerating pavement and the mud had overtaken it, instead of the parasol having descended to them."

THE GINGER-BEER BOTTLE.

Or, to adapt one of Einstein's own figures.

"A man drops, say, a ginger-beer bottle from a train going at 50 miles an hour. He observes that the bottle falls in what for him is a straight line perpendicular to the ground, under the influence of gravitation."

But to an indignant platelayer who has just escaped its impact, the bottle appears not to have dropped in a straight line at all, but to have flown by him in a parabolic curve. The reason is that the platelayer applied different co-ordinates of reference."

It all depends upon the point of view and the position of the observer!

Of force, Viscount Haldane says, physicists know nothing. What they experience is only change in relative position. If, therefore, it is once established that gravitational and inertial energy are the same thing regarded from different standpoints, that the inertia of matter is only the inertia of latent energy, there may be tremendous consequences.

MORE REFLECTION NEEDED.

Lord Haldane sees a changing attitude towards religion, politics, literature. The absence of settled conviction in the public mind is the result of reflection, and can only be made good by reflection. It is important to seek out foundations on which faith can be rested.

The reflective habit is highly desirable in the interests of democracy. How much misery through strikes and lock-outs, he asks, would not have been averted had there been enough of reflection.

"The world is a better world than it once was. There has been progress in many directions. There is a new demand in our period for interference with individual liberty in the interests of society as a whole. The mind of the State never stands still, any more than does the mind of the individual. We have therefore not only to watch, but to think, and to take heed lest our social organism gets encrusted with the products of an environment no longer suited to it."

This is how Lord Haldane, politician and philosopher, applies the principle of relativity to reflective thought to-day.

THE PRESENT DISCONTENT.

The Only Remedy.

"The times are out of joint." With millions of women and children in Europe starving, with millions more even in our own comparatively fortunate country struggling for existence on the poverty line, with the spectre of pestilence stalking abroad, and the demon of revolution stirring everywhere, the outlook for civilisation does not inspire much hope, states a writer in a Home Journal.

Various authorities give various reasons for the present chaos. It is war unrest, says one. It is disillusionment due to the unsatisfactory peace, says another. It is a revulsion from the war-time spirit of sacrifice, says a third, and so on. All ignore the fact that the present unhappy state of affairs is not a product of the war. Some of our post-war writers attempt to have us believe that the world was a semi-Paradise in 1914—they forget that unemployment, sweated labour, starvation, and countless other evils were rampant then as now. The seeds of the present turmoil were alive and germinating then, and the war, with its cry of waste and bloodshed, acted as a forcing-house for their intensive cultivation.

THE ROOT CAUSE.

The fundamental reason for the present chaos is not to be found, as so many suggest, in the undoubtedly faulty mechanism of our modern social system—it is more elemental than that. It has its real beginnings in the age-old crime of selfishness. It was Germany's criminal selfishness which commenced the struggle which has shaken civilisation, and parallel cases could be found right down to the dawn of history.

Our biggest mistake lies in imagining that our own success, as nations or individuals, must be achieved at the expense of others. No one, possibly, purposely acts with a view to creating unhappiness, but in pursuit of their own ends, they do so ruthlessly, if indirectly. The monopolist who forces up the price of some necessity he has "cornered," does not mean, intentionally, to create suffering and misery for thousands of the poor—but he does so. Similarly, when one or two important classes of workers strike for their own ends, their fellows in a dozen other trades have to pay the penalty in unemployment. Selfishness always claims its victims.

Man is by nature a social animal, and true human happiness is possible only for mankind collectively. It is individualism, "class-consciousness," perverted nationalism, and other popular but pernicious doctrines, which, by destroying our social sense, are to blame for much of the world's unhappiness. All of them tend to encourage the policy of "grab" and grabbing never gave real happiness, and never will.

THE WAY OUT.

The remedy is simple. It requires but everyone—the butcher, the baker, the miner, the clerk—every class in every country, to cultivate the habit of thinking for others as well as themselves, and their own little section or nation. Our first question should be, not, "Will this benefit me?" but "Will it injure someone else?"

We, every one of us, are personally responsible for every wrong, every cruelty, every injustice in the world to-day, but we do not realise it, because we think as individuals, and not as units of a great whole. We must learn to think collectively, to exercise the vast power for good possessed by a united community. Whenever we wish to start our new world, an infallible touchstone is ready to our hand. Let us ask, "Does this promote human happiness?" If it does, let it live and flourish, if not—abolish it. We can hardly realise the happiness which would soon come, merely from breathing a happy atmosphere, of being cheered by the universal spirit of happiness, instead of sickened and depressed as we are now, by the foul air of misery which pervades our world.

Humanity's salvation lies in the development of its "social conscience." Civilisation is presently in conflict with chaos, and to the thinking man or woman, one thing is obvious—mankind must "pull together" or perish.

CHINA'S ELECTIONS.

The case in which Mayor Shen Pan-chang, of Shanghai, is charged with having in smugged the local Parliamentary elections has now been taken up to the Supreme Court of China for hearing.

CHINESE REPRESENTATION.

We should like to take opportunity to amplify what we said yesterday in regard to the feeling prevalent among the Chinese that the representation they have on the Legislative Council is scarcely representative enough—not in the matter of numbers but in the matter of spirit. The recent divergence of attitude shown by the majority of Chinese residents to that shown by those in a better position in connection with the Rents Ordinance has led to the creation of not a little dissatisfaction. It is contended that the Chinese Unofficials have little means of ascertaining the popular public view and even when that view is known but conflicts with the monied interests it is not presented as it should be.

Let us hasten to assert—and the truthfulness of the assertion cannot be denied—that the Chinese community as a whole owes an immense debt of gratitude to its past and present Unofficials. Times without number the native poor and industrious of this Colony have had their cases presented with forcefulness and effectiveness. One need only recall the many Budget debates, the recent protest made against the suggestion to instal water meters and the keen watch kept on general legislation to prove this beyond any possible contention. But we have just witnessed an instance of what might happen at any time—an occasion on which the bulk of the population disagrees with the nominated spokesmen. Strong public opinion will always express itself no matter what the representation might be; we have just seen an example of that, yet it is felt that little or no machinery exists whereby the Chinese Unofficials are given a direct voice from the bulk of the population. The Chinese Chamber of Commerce discusses and weighs the merits of almost every Bill which affects the Chinese but to represent the view of that Chamber is not enough when the views of the general public conflict with it. It has been suggested to us that when a measure directly affects the bulk of the Chinese population the various Guilds of the Colony might be asked for an expression of opinion. These Guilds are certainly representative of every grade in the social scale and reports from them, if forwarded to the Chinese Unofficial members, could be digested and presented to the Council as a true reflex of what the Chinese were thinking. We must admit that this seems largely a matter for the Chinese themselves to settle. It is in their own hands and should not be difficult of practical expression.

The very fact that a Chinese Tenants' Association has been formed—or is in course of formation—shows that confidence in the Unofficials on the house rents question is not particularly great, and the fear is that when there is conflict in views between the poor and the well-to-do the former have but little chance of being heard except by direct petition as in the case just witnessed. One can readily understand the attitude that is being adopted and one is also forced to sympathise with it. We don't think it is a matter for the Government to worry its head over, we don't think the present Chinese Unofficials can scarce help standing but where they do, yet we think they would present whatever views they were directly requested to by some such popular medium as the various Guilds. Which puts the onus of the next move on the Guilds.

NOTES & COMMENTS.

Oil in Marine Engineering.

The Admiralty, it is reported, expects to have an all-oil fleet in the course of a few months, no difficulty in regard to supplies being anticipated. Apparently the authorities at Home are so confident on the point that the Anglo-Persian Oil Co., in which the Government holds a large block of shares, has been authorised to enter into a Japanese contract, presumably to furnish fuel for our ally's Navy, as oil deposits in the Eastern island empire are very limited. Oilfields are being opened up with energy all over the globe, but even now the production amounts to little more than 3 per cent. of the coal raised. This, however, is equivalent to something like 10 per cent. oil having about treble the dynamic value. At the end of last year a leader of the shipping world, Lord Pirrie, sounded a warning on the score of inadequate or uncertain supplies. Evidently this apprehension is not shared by a number of other authorities. One point raised by Lord Pirrie is worth remembering in relation to the Lloyd's Register statistics cabled this week. His lordship strongly deprecates as wasteful the use of oil in the form of fuel. The number of vessels consuming oil has increased enormously in a few years, but the cable does not make clear the proportion of oil-burners and motor-ships respectively.

The Irish Negotiations.

As some kind of definite pronouncement may be expected before many more days have passed, it is hardly worth while speculating upon the outcome of the discussions respecting Ireland. One or two reports that have gained currency arouse a sense of disquietude, as, for instance, talk of "independence" and the suggestion that as "Mr. De Valera and his colleagues were elected by Dail Eireann on a republican ticket, they do not possess authority to abate the demand." There has also been a suspicious reference by the Ulster Premier to "self-determination," implying that the Northern province is still against fusion. It would be premature, however, to attach dark significance to these fragmentary accounts and until we hear that there has ceased to be ground for it we prefer to preserve the note of optimism sounded in messages to hand yesterday, in particular the one referring to Lord Crewe's declaration in the Upper Chamber. The fact that the negotiations continued gives reason for hope and the Irish leader's visit to Dublin to submit the position to Dail Eireann suggests at least that Mr. De Valera is not adopting an irreconcilable attitude.

Echo of the Big Contest.

Our Kobe contemporary the Japanese Chronicle devotes a leading article to the Dempsey-Carpenter contest, or to the moral to be deduced from the public interest in the event. Our contemporary has to lament that while the League of Nations, an institution for securing universal peace, arouses tepid interest, five continents waited on the result of a boxing-match, or, as the Chronicle, scorning euphemisms, terms it, a prize-fight. The Kobe journal is not to be deluded by any talk about "manly exercise"; the spectacle is simply one of Rome watching the gladiators while the city burns—or the world goes to rack and ruin. It appears that London papers gave more space to the contest than to the celebration of the League of Nations Union or the coal strike. Those being Home events, the case is worse than the point at a Press Conference that high cable charges prevented the various parts of the Empire from keeping in intimate touch, the only time when it paid to cable a detailed report being on such an occasion as the Johnson-Burns contest at Sydney, N.S.W., a Harmsworth organ having a full-column account. Perhaps such criticisms are overdrawn, and yet it is impossible to say that they have no justification. For our part, we would not be specially severe on the sporting instinct if the public showed itself duly alive to other considerations.

RELEASE OF MR. STEVENS.

A Kaifeng message says:—Owing to the defeat of Kuo Chien at Fenghsiang, Shensi, the release of the Rev. Mr. Stevens will probably be effected by the Chinese authorities. But it is reported that in order to embarrass the Peking Government, Chen Shu-fan is putting difficulties in the way.

The Rt. Hon. Mr. Winston Churchill has informed the Hongkong Government that the Government of Roumania has given notice under date 18th April last of its decision to denounce the Treaty of Commerce and Navigation between the United Kingdom and Roumania which was signed at Bucharest on the 31st of October, 1903.

It is notified that commencing from Saturday, 30th instant, the Harbour Office will be closed at 1 p.m. as heretofore, and opened from 10 a.m. to 12 noon on Sundays as at present, and that if for any special reason the services of the Harbour Office are required on a Saturday afternoon this may be arranged by communication with the Harbour Master on the preceding Friday.

A successful whist drive was held last evening in the Wilts Sergeants' Mess, Murray Barracks, at which the following were the prize-winners:—Ladies: 1st, Mrs. Prickett, 2nd, Mrs. May, 3rd, Mrs. Dodd, Hidden No., Mrs. Grimes. Gentlemen: 1st, S. Sgt. Beard, 2nd, Mr. Glover, 3rd, Mr. Webb, Hidden No., Mr. Smith. O.M.S. Alderton capably fulfilled the duties of M. C.

The Hongkong Naval and Military Directory has just been issued by the South China Morning Post Company and is now on sale for the price of 50 cents. This handy little guide to the personnel of the two services is published half-yearly and the issue just in our hands is well up to its predecessors in the completeness and good arrangement of the information sought to be conveyed.

The Government is calling for tenders for the supply of one new "Priestman" Improved Self-propelling Steam Grab Dredger of the boiler-on-tank plate type, size 7 C, capable of dredging to a depth of 40 feet below water level (including double-chain Grabs for Mud, Gravel, Clay and spare parts) mounted on new Steel Barge (complete with all equipment, etc.) similar to the one at present in the service of the Government.

A free fight resulting from a feud between the hawkers and rattle workers on the one side and the workers at the restaurants on the other took place at Water Street yesterday, when sticks, stones and other weapons that were ready to hand were used with such goodwill that a number of casualties occurred. A watchman was injured in the shoulder and side and the man had to be removed to Hospital to have his wounds stitched up. His alleged assailant was this morning charged at the Police Court and remanded till next week.

THE VLADIVOSTOK SENTRY.

The report that Private Ogawara, the sentry who killed Captain Langdon at Vladivostok, had committed suicide is denied in the Asahi, which states that the soldier was discharged from the army in April and is now working on a farm in the Koshi prefecture.

HONGKONG TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO.

(Compiled from the "Hongkong Telegraph" files for the week ending July 31st 1896.)

THE DOLLAR.

July 24th.—The rate of the Dollar, on demand, to-day is 2s. 2½d.

MISSING DOGS.

July 24th.—This morning an attempt on the part of one of the draft of marines going home by the P. & O. Palawan to annex a dog was frustrated only by chance. The marine had taken the dog on board the steamer and tied him up. Here by chance he was seen by a person who knew him, released, and returned to the owner. Constant complaints are heard of valuable dogs being lost in the Colony, and this seems to supply the key to some mysterious disappearances.

THE HEAT WAVE.

July 25th.—To-day there was a very welcome change in the weather. Instead of sultry and well-nigh unbearable brain-boiling heat, a strong north-east breeze prevailed throughout the day, and towards nightfall it strengthened considerably, rendering navigation in the harbour somewhat difficult for small craft. Dr. Dobrek has discovered a hurricane to the South of the Colony, not more than 10,000 miles away, and he will, no doubt do his utmost to induce it to come right along this way almost immediately, if not sooner. The maximum temperature recorded at the Observatory yesterday was 93.

PAST HISTORY.

July 25th.—In a recent issue of the Singapore Free Press we notice certain comments made by that paper in regard to the petition of the ratepayers of this Colony for a more popular representation on the Legislative Council. It sympathises with the petitioners, denounces the destruction of the popular character of the Sanitary Board and asserts—and rightly asserts—that "the political status quo in Hongkong is necessarily unstable, because it denies to an active, intelligent and progressive community even that control over its own affairs, in a municipal sense, that every sixth-rate county township in India possesses." It counsels us to take further action by drawing up a well-considered plan based on municipal precedents in India, Burma and the Straits, and it expresses the belief that ultimately Downing Street will be induced to allow a well-constituted municipality to entirely supersede the Sanitary Board.

THEATRE ROYAL.

"The Maid Of The Mountains."

The Bandman Opera Company concluded its short season in Hongkong last night with "The Maid of the Mountains." A large and appreciative audience witnessed the Company's presentation of this wonderful musical play and at the conclusion the artistes were given a very flattering reception. The beautiful costumes, fine scenery and admirable lighting effects contributed in no small measure to the brilliant success achieved by the artists, each one of whom gave masterly interpretations of their parts. The cast included:—Mr. Jack Crichton, Mr. Dan Mansfield, Mr. Eric Masters, Mr. Tom Scott, Mr. Jero Verno, Mr. Leonard McMahon, Miss Madeline Rossett, Miss Grace Barry and Miss Dora Dolan. The Company is undoubtedly one of the best which has visited the Far East and everywhere has been given a most cordial reception.

OPIUM SMUGGLING.

Curious Hiding Place Discovered.

Asst. Supt. Taylor, Chief Preventive Officer Watt, with a party of Chinese Revenue Officers, raided a buoy in the harbour, belonging to the M.S.K., near Causeway Bay. After unbolting a manhole, during which process several of the Revenue Officers were precipitated into the water, a small boy was put inside the Buoy, and banded out three bags containing 725 taels of prepared opium, valued at eight thousand seven hundred and thirty dollars.

RACKING A LOSER.

Why is Hongkong pro-Kwangsi?

(By Robt. MacWhirter.)

There's been a good few disappointed folks in Hongkong this week. Now if it were the week after the races or if news had reached the Colony that Constitutional Reform had been granted without any more ado or that the French had decided to let down the Banque de Industrie there might have been just cause for disappointment but as it was merely that the Kwangsi troops had gotten it good and hard in the neck, it kind of bothers the ordinary man in the street to figure out just what all the excitement's about. Strictly speaking it shouldn't worry more than one per cent. here whether Mr. Ward Luk Wing-ting is fleeing in order to keep his hide whole, any more than if the next typhoon in these parts makes up its mind to run ashore at Labrador. Just exactly why Hongkong, British as well as Chinese, should have a down on Canton, lots of folks at the present moment would like to know. It would save them from much fruitless guessing for one thing.

Now we regard this fighting, to any one that has followed it, there's no much doubt about the result now. Whoever has been relying on Peking for help has been sold a pup. Kwangsi and Kien didna' work according to timetable and Luk Wing-ting, or native, hasn't been able to come up to scratch. His idea of a pair of pincers, one side north of Canton, and the other on the south didna' come off, wi' the result that he's had to reinforce his centre and Nanning, the capital of Kwangsi, looks like about five cents of whitelait to the Kwangtung cat at the moment of writing. Taking might promise the Hangyang arsenal and all it can turn out for the next six months but Pak-hoi and the like on the coast, now being no' longer Kwangsi, the only way left is but to send ammunition in by letterpost or by aeroplane. So taking it by and large it certainly does look like as if the French will have a few warlike visitors on their hands, if they don't come to Hongkong and keep Young Wing-tai and his pals company here.

General Chan King-ming, Ngai Bong-ping and Co. certainly didna' let the grass grow under their feet when it came to pushing the gentle Kwangsi gradually off the map. Now that they have practically conquered that country it will be interesting to note what happens. All along they have given out that the only object for which they went to war was to drive the invader out of their country, hearth and home. Having either captured or made flee Luk Wing-ting and Co. will they give back Kwangsi to whom it rightfully belongs or will they sit tight and forget to practice what they have preached? Or again will they stay where they are until such time as Dr. Sun Yat-sen takes long leave from the province? It's well known that there's little love lost between General Chan King-ming and Sun Yat-sen. If an ultimatum came from Nanning or Wuchow from Chan King-ming or Ngai Bong-ping inviting Sun to book his passage forth of the Province I don't see how he could very well help himself. I don't say, mind ye, that such is likely to happen, but what I do say is, that if the Kwangtung military commanders come back like heroes to Canton and rejoin their chief Sun Yat-sen again, then the intrigues in Peking, and Hongkong, whether paid spies or coal merchants, will have to try something else for they've all been on the wrong track so far.

I would like to express the opinion though that whether the Kwangtung commanders are true to themselves, their country or their President there's one very patent fact sticking out like a wart on your face and that is that Dr. Sun Yat-sen is neither liked nor trusted. Why, I wouldn't like to say for sure but the fact remains nevertheless. Ask twelve different Hongkong Chinese and ye get twelve different reasons why he shouldn't be where he is. I'm no' going to go into them all here but it's my firm opinion that if Sun is a patriot then the best thing he can do for his country is to get out and give it a chance to get on. To some he's an idealist, to others an opportunist, plenty again firmly believe that he's in

TO-DAY'S MISCELLANY.

There was a time—before the establishment of the diocese of Manchester, let us say—when Bishop Temple's announcement that he intended to claim reasonable holidays would have sounded very curious, remarks a writer in a Home journal. For a bishopric used to be considered as a dignified and not ill-paid retirement from the more forceful duties of the clerical profession, and, in some cases, it might have been possible to adapt the rebuke of a non-hunting diocesan to the Bishop himself. "Surely, my Lord," cried a hunting squire, "you don't object to my hunting?" "Not at all," was the biting answer. "I object only to your ever doing anything else." Here and there were strenuous bishops, but there was never any difficulty about holidays. The new ideal was an outcome of the great clerical revival of which the Tractarians were among the pioneers. The Bishop who waved away the suggestion that the Bible was the book beginning with B, most studied by himself and his fellows and substituted Bradshaw put the new regime into a single sentence. But the old idea still lingered in the minds at least of some of the laity, and Creighton's friends were ill-pleased when their hopes that his elevation to the bench would be the signal for a great increase in literary activity on his part were disappointed.

The Napoleonic centenary has given a Manchester Guardian contributor an opportunity to trot out an oft-told tale, which still bears reproduction. Here it is: It is said that more books have been written about Napoleon than about any other human being, and the mass will probably be increased by his centenary. There is a story of a newly-made millionaire who, wishing to found a library, was advised to specialise on Napoleon. He therefore sent an order to a bookseller to supply "all the books about Napoleon." In a month or so he received a letter stating that the bookseller had now 40,000 volumes, and was prepared to send them as an instalment, or to wait until the collection was more complete!

League wi' Moscow but whatever he is, he'd be the better of a change of climate, for then and only then will Kwangtung, and when I say Kwangtung I'm thinking, particularly of Canton, only then will intrigue, crookedness, and the buying and selling of consciences stop wi' regard to the Province at the present time. He may be a good man but I firmly believe that he'd be a better man for his own country if he quit it.

Now, how is it that Hongkong is so disappointed to-day that Kwangsi is amongst the also rans. Is it because the present Government in Kwangtung have no longer fat pickings to offer at a price; is it because Hongkong is so chockful of Peking parasites that the Chinese have lost the faculty of discerning right from wrong; is it because disappointed concessionaires are doing everything in their power to give a dog a bad name or are merely disappointed; is it because the Secretary for Chinese Affairs showed such a bias just recently; is it because the newspapers find Kwangtung so complacent a puppet to knock down at will or is it because there is some truth after all in the suspicion that the Government here is meddling in the affairs of its neighbouring province? Whatever it is it must stop, this taking sides in a matter which can only indirectly interest us.

If the Chinese desire autonomy for certain parts of their country such must make in the end for the unity of the whole. As soon as each community matures, self government will be established. A healthy contented Canton will mean a richer Hongkong. A man that's blind in one eye and can't see wi' the other can perceive that. It means the co-operation for the advantage of each. In the meantime, hands off Kwangtung! It's their's anyway and they've nothing of ours that doesn't rightfully belong to them. If it's true that the British Government is interesting itself in Kwangtung it had better look out or some of these days the League of Nations will be on it's track and then the fat'll be in the fire. Let that be as it may. So far as Kwangsi is concerned we backed a loser anyway.

[Next week I hope to have something to say about Canton itself, its government and recent general improvement.—R. Mc. W.]

The B. I. Steamer Manela.

The steamer Manela, which arrived at Hongkong yesterday on her maiden voyage in the service of the P. & O., sailed this morning for Shanghai, Kobe and Yokohama in continuation of her passage from Antwerp and London. In addition to the general description of the ship and her appointments for the comfort and convenience of passengers that appeared in Wednesday's Telegraph the following facts (omitted from yesterday's issue for want of space) will be of interest.

The Manela was built for the British India Steam Navigation Co. by Messrs. Barclay, Curle & Co. at their Westyard, Scotstoun, and is one of three sister ships intended for the Indian passenger trade. Each of the vessels is being equipped with a different type of engine for experimental purposes. One of the vessels will be a Diesel-engine motorship. The Manela, an intermediate passenger and cargo vessel, is fitted with twin screw turbine engines of the Brown Curtis double reduction geared type, constructed by the builders. The boilers and bunkers are so arranged that the vessel can use either coal or oil for fuel. The Manela is equipped with power-operated water-tight doors, fire-proof bulkheads, emergency plant and bilge pump and other fittings in accordance with the Bulkhead Committee's recommendation. The safety certificate regulations have been complied with. The cabins for 123 first and second class passengers are on deck in nearly all cases and are airy and commodious. The second class accommodation is particularly good, being better than usual. The Manela carries a deadweight of 10,500 tons and the cargo-handling arrangements are complete, six holds with wide hatch coverings being left clear for stowage by the adoption of wide spaced pillars and girders. Cargo derricks are worked from samson posts and two heavy lift booms are slung from the masts fore and aft. The vessel is lofty amidships, having four decks there. The wireless apparatus has a night range of 1,500 miles and 1,000 miles by day. The Manela underwent her trial trip at Gourock on May 12 and attained a speed of more than 14 knots, her economical speed being 12 knots. Proving highly satisfactory the vessel was taken over by her owner and she sailed to Antwerp for her first loading for the Far East.

The personnel of the officers of the Manela is as follows:—Capt. S. H. Maples, master; Mr. J. H. Longhurst, chief officer; Mr. J. D. Smith, chief engineer; Mr. D. M. Lough, purser; Mr. H. W. Cole, chief steward.

THE "ANTI-DUMPING" RESOLUTIONS.

Bankers' Protest.

The following protest has been issued by the leading bankers in London against the Government's "anti-dumping" resolutions: A hundred years ago, in a time of depression following a great war, the merchants of London presented to Parliament a memorable petition against the 'Anti-Commercial Principles' of the restrictive system then in force. To-day, moved by the same anxieties, weighed down by far heavier taxation, and face to face with proposals intended to renew the restrictive methods of the past, we submit that it is essential to the revival of confidence that no legislative or administrative measures should be taken which would diminish the total output of British industry or check the free exchange of British goods.

The burden of taxation can only be lightened if the necessity for public economy is resolutely faced. The present rate of national expenditure threatens to cripple the country's resources and to impair its credit abroad.

In our judgment it is more than the commercial community can bear, more than the capacity of the nation can afford, more than, were proper economies effected, the nation need be asked to sustain.

The system of Government regulating trade by licences, controls, and departmental orders has, admittedly, however well-intentioned, had in many cases unfortunate results. Political interference with the natural course of commerce without regard to economic laws invariably does mischief. British trade needs nothing so much for its recovery as freedom to deal with its own difficulties, to study and provide for its own interests, and to work out its own salvation.

"It is as true as it was a hundred years ago that foreign commerce conduces to the wealth and prosperity of a country by enabling it to import the commodities which other countries are best able to supply, and to export in payment those articles which from its own situation it is best adapted to produce; that freedom from restraint is calculated to give the utmost extension to foreign trade and the best direction to capital and industry; and that the maxim of buying in the cheapest market and selling in the dearest, which regulates every merchant in his individual dealings, is the best rule for the trade of the whole nation.

"The policy of trying to exclude the productions of other countries, with the well-meant design of encouraging our own, cannot increase the volume of commerce or the total volume of employment here. But it may well compel the consumers, who form the bulk of our population, to submit to privations in the quality or quantity of the goods they buy.

"The importation of foreign goods does not diminish the activities of our people, because such goods can only be paid for by the produce of British capital and labour. The advocates of a restrictive system are too apt to lose sight of the elementary fact that nations, or rather individual members of nations, buy foreign goods because they need them, not to benefit others, but to benefit themselves, and pay for them by producing goods which the foreigner in his turn requires. We cannot limit imports into this country without limiting our export trade, and striking a grave blow at the world-wide commerce on which this island kingdom principally depends.

"Trade is exchange. No nation which lives by trading with others can prosper unless other nations prosper too. We hold to-day great stocks of goods. We are ready to manufacture more. There is a large and insistent demand for them abroad. But owing to the paralysis of Continental commerce—due in part to the restrictive barriers which the new States have set up between themselves—the would-be buyers of our goods have not the means to pay for what they want. We have to build up the market that we need by encouraging Continental nations to export to us. For it is only by exports that they can re-establish their credit and provide funds for the payment of their debts. In such a situation we believe that all expedients to control and hamper imports into this country, whether by licences, tariffs, or any other means, can only retard improvement in the Continental exchanges and prevent the natural recovery of trade. Legislation of this nature, while it may increase the profits of a few selected industries, cannot fail to check our output as a whole, and to increase the costs of production to a level which may make it increasingly difficult for British traders to compete successfully with others in the markets of the world.

"With party or political considerations we, as bankers, are not concerned. But in the interests of British industry and commerce, now menaced by anxieties which it would be a profound mistake to underrate, we desire to enter a respectful protest against every restrictive regulation of trade which tends to diminish the resources of the State.

DAMAGES FOR THE WUCHANG RIOTS.

It is reported that the claims for damages arising from the Wuchang mutiny amount to $3,400,000. This sum, owing presumably to exaggeration on the part of many of the claimants is believed to be considerably above the real mark, which probably does exceed $2,500,000. The total number of people killed during the mutiny is now estimated at 50.

JAPAN'S IRON INDUSTRY.

From the 10th financial year of Taisho (1921), says the Asahi, the Yawata Ironworks have been authorised to borrow money to the amount of ¥98,000,000 from the Financial Department, as they fear that they will run short of working funds, in spite of the sum of ¥60,000,000 already received. The Osaka paper understands from the perspicuous remarks by Mr. Nakazawa, Vice-President of the Government Ironworks, that they act as far as possible in a policy of not borrowing money. Nevertheless, at the Ironworks authorities, including Mr. Shirai, the President, hold that the present iron depression will last for at least five or six years, they will make themselves responsible during the next five years for ¥300,000,000 to ¥400,000,000, borrowing ¥60,000,000 to ¥80,000,000 a year.

MITSUBISHI IRONWORKS.

Some 350 workers belonging to the Mitsubishi Ironworks at Wadasaki-cho, Hyogo, have presented a petition to Mr. K. Ito, the manager of the works, comprising five items regarding the improvement of their treatment. The claims of the petition are, that (1) the Labour Guild must be recognised by the works; (2) the present nine-hour working day must be shortened to eight hours; (3) the daily wages to be increased by 50 sen per head, equal to those paid in the Kobe Kawasaki Dockyard; (4) discharge allowances of at least four month's pay and ¥50 family allowance per head must be given; (5) Increase of wages must be made every six months. These demands, however, were rejected by the Head of the Engineering Department, who suggested the probable recognition of the first item, but said the rest were quite impossible. Upon this the committee again discussed the steps to be taken, but no decision has yet been reached. Although no disquieting movements have been started, the prefectural and local police authorities are keeping vigilant eyes upon their movements of the workers concerned, who number about 360.

SHIPPING NEWS

JAPAN-LEITH SERVICE.
The Nippon Yusen Kaisha now operates a service of steamships between Japan and Leith.BELFAST QUIESCENT.

Only one vessel—a sugar carrier of 2,800 tons—was launched from Belfast yards during the month of May.

DISPENSING WITH KEDGE ANCHORS.

The British Corporation for the Survey and Registry of Shipping intimates that the committee of the society has decided that owners may dispense with kedge anchors in steamers which have an equipment tonnage greater than 1,210.

INSURING OFFICERS' TICKETS.

A report from Home states that the system of insuring the tickets of navigating and engineer officers, and paying compensation in the case of the suspension of such certificates, is becoming exceedingly popular, applications coming in large numbers from all parts of the world.

S.Y.K. TONNAGE.

One of the three steamers which are being built at the Nagasaki Works of the Mitsubishi Zosen Kaisha for the Nippon Yusen Kaisha will be launched on the 25th instant. The others will be ready for launching before the end of the year. The vessels are of the Katori Maru class and will be employed in the European service.

SMUGGLING JAPANESE INTO AMERICA.

A Portland (Ore) message says Captain Yasuo Naito of the Japanese tramp steamer Pook Said-maru, pleaded guilty to the charge of allowing six Japanese stowaways to land in the United States, and paid a fine of $1,200. His attorney explained that the captain pleaded guilty to enable his ship to sail on schedule time. Five of the stowaways have been captured.

KAWASAKI DOCKYARD.

A general meeting of the Kawasaki Shipbuilding Co. was held at its head office on the 25th ult. when proposals for payment of a 20 per cent. dividend and for an increase of capital to ¥90,000,000 were passed. The new shares due to this increase will be distributed among the old shareholders on the 30th June at the rate of one new share to one old one. For the raising of the first call (¥12,500 per share), recourse will be had to the reserve.

U.S. SHIPBUILDING RETURNS.

The volume of steel shipbuilding in U.S. yards had shrunk to 1,133,170 tons gross on May 1, according to the American Bureau of Shipping. There were just 254 ships, of 820,388 tons gross, under construction for private account, and a substantial number of these vessels were barges and ships of this type. Thirty-six ships, of 302,783 tons gross, remain to be completed for the account of the Shipping Board. The bulk of this tonnage is made up of the new passenger liners and oil tankers. On March 1 the U.S. tonnage under way totalled 4,406,245 deadweight tons.

PORT OF WHAMPOA.

The proposal for the construction of a harbour for the neighbouring port of Whampoa is a revival of a project that was launched fifteen years ago when the rapid growth of Hongkong under the administration of the British drew the attention of Chinese merchants to the possibilities of Whampoa. To reclaim the foreshore, dredge the harbour, construct godowns and most important of all, to construct the long breakwater to protect the entrance into the harbour, would involve an outlay not $5,000,000 as estimated by the present supporters of the scheme, but of $50,000,000 without any certainty of its being recovered from the eventual returns of the port—Shipping and Engineering.

A FIXED EASTER.

A Bill to fix the second Sunday in April in each year as Easter Sunday has been discussed in the House of Lords. Lord Desborough, who moved the second reading, said the change commended itself to business people, and it would be a convenience to the Church. Lord Onslow said the Government thought the reform a useful one, but could not promise facilities for the Bill until the official views of the Roman-Catholic and other Churches and the Chambers of Commerce had been obtained, and they could not accept the responsibility of getting these views. Protests were made against this attitude, and eventually Lord Crawford promised that the Government would undertake to make the enquiry.
